Work Certificate

We hereby certify that

Mr Daniel Peppicelli
Born on January 30th 1983

joined Kollmorgen SA on March 1st 2012, as Software Engineer in our SW Scrum Development team based in Lausanne Switzerland, but prior was working for us as an external consultant since Nov 2010.

Daniel joined the Lausanne scrum team and immediately became a full contributing team member within just couple months, where usual ramp-up period is more around 6 months due to the complexity of the project. Daniel ability to learn complex new things is outstanding, I never worked with such great engineer able to understand and apply new concept/technology in such rapid and efficient way. After couple months in the project Daniel was explaining some product architecture to existing member in the project that had couple years of background in the project!

Daniel worked on absolutely all areas of SW development Cycle. Daniel took a very active role on functional spec with a high emphasis on user experience, participated on SW Design and architecture, coding, testing and all other side tasks, such as maintaining the continuous integration system, the automatic test framework and cross communication with other teams.

From a technical view point, Daniel was able to work on all SW areas of the products:
- Embedded C++ real time code, RTOS (QNX and InTime), cross platform code
- Communication middleware, ORB, RPC, HTTP and std TCP/IP communication
- Complex GUI development based in C++ and QT using MVC Design pattern
- Web (server and client) development using Mongoose, HTML, Javascript, JQuery, REST interfaces, SOAP UI, JSON, etc

On top of that Daniel took, by himself, an active role to coach and mentor our other scrum team based in India. Daniel was in daily contact with them to play the role of remote technical lead to be sure that the team was going in the right direction, from both technical and functional aspects. He demonstrated excellent teaching and mentoring skills helping the team to develop and grow…

Daniel has been a key team member as well to support our users and customers, always available to jump on any user issue, manage the communication with the customer and lead resolution in a timely way…

Bottom line Daniel is an outstanding team member, especially compared to his young experience. I would without hesitations highly recommend him to any SW company and if I have a chance to hire him again, I'll do without any doubts!
